

ABSTRACT

A simplified method for utilizing used tires in the construction of pipes, and an apparatus for carrying out the same method, are disclosed. 1

The apparatus according to the invention comprises tires cemented with industrial glue to form pipes. 2

A minimum of new materials and labor are required in the method and apparatus, resulting in additional environmental and economic savings. 3